

Archbold Hong Kong 2010 is here. With fully updated information it continues to be the essential first point of reference for practitioners from the beginning of the case to the trial itself.

In recognition of considerable movement in the criminal law arena with an ongoing trend towards an increased number of trials and appeals brought into court, Archbold Hong Kong is now an annual edition with two regular supplements. Written by a distinguished team of contributors, Archbold Hong Kong 2010 has everything you need to know as a practitioner on criminal law and keeps you abreast of fast developing law and practice.

ARCHBOLD HONG KONG 2010

- Authoritative and most frequently cited text in the criminal court
- Fully updated with expert commentaries and key case law
- Ideal for court use with a portable one-volume format
- Comprehensive, covering all aspects of criminal law, evidence, sentencing, and pleadings
- Two regular supplements published in February and July 2010

“The decision by the publishers to bring out an annual edition of Archbold Hong Kong will no doubt be welcomed by all practitioners. The decision is in line with the position in the United Kingdom and ensures that practitioners will have at hand up-to-date knowledge of the relevant criminal law when they appear in court.”

~ Mr Clive Grossman SC,
 General Editor,
 Archbold Hong Kong

“The important thing is that this publication has served the law well and will, I am confident, continue to do so.”

~ The Hon. Mr Justice Bokhary, Court of Final Appeal and Editor-in-Chief Archbold Hong Kong
